MILNES WINS GOLF CHAMPIONSHIP

DEFEATS OLSON. LAST YEAR CHAMP. IN FINALS

Roy O. Milnes easily took the final from Esbern J. Olson in the annual Grayling Golf club tournament which closed Labor Day.

Milnes led in the first 18 holes that were played Sunday with seven up. Monday morning at 10:00 o'clock they started the second rounds. Roy added to his lead in the first nine holes by three, thus giving him a lead of ten with nine to go. This margin clinched the championship for Roy and the last nine holes were not played.

This has been a spirited and interesting contest thruout the tournament. In the eliminations Roy found a hard competitor in Dr. C. J. Croon in the first rounds, the former winning by the narrow margin of two up. In the semi-finals Wilhelm Rasm held the former to two holes.

Esbern ran up against a hard nut to crack in the second elimination in Menno Corwin. The first 18 holes resulted in a tie. In the play-off Esbern led with three up at the 18th hole. In the semi-finals he lost to Holger Hanson by seven with six to go.

Mr. Olson, in a few pleasing remarks, passed the coveted trophy over to the new champion at a banquet held at the club house Monday evening, in whose possession it will remain for the ensuing year. In order to obtain permanent possession one must win the cup three times, which probably won't be so easy.

Roy started playing golf last year and his success has been phenomenal. He plays the course in the neighborhood of 40 to 45 just about every round, and is the only local member to have parred the course, with a 37.

SORENSEN-ENDRICKS WEDDING

Miss Nina Sorenson and Mr. Milo Endricks were united in marriage at a pretty wedding ceremony that took place at the Danish-Lutheran church on Wednesday afternoon, Sept. 2nd. The ceremony was read by Rev. Kjolhede at four o'clock before the altar which was decorated with flowers, and candelabra holding ivory lighted tapers.

The bride was attired in a gown of white tulle and carried a beautiful bouquet of pink and white flowers. She was attended by her cousin Miss Martha Sorenson who was dressed in yellow georgette and also carried a pretty bouquet. The groom was assisted by Mr. Walter Kohonen. Following the ceremony a wedding dinner was given by the bride's mother, Mrs. Victor Sorenson at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Kohonen. A beautiful wedding cake presented by the groom's sister, Mrs. Joseph Kernosky and Mrs. William Leval formed the centerpiece of the table.

Those from out of town who came to be in attendance at the wedding included Mr. and Mrs. Herman Sorenson and family, Mr. and Mrs. William Leval and Miss Margaret Taylor, Detroit; Mr. and Mrs. C. Rabidue and family of Base Line, Mich.; and Mr. and Mrs. Rupert Pennington of Rosebush, Mich. Mrs. Endricks is the youngest daughter of Mrs. Victor Sorenson and is a graduate of Grayling High School of the class of 1925 and a graduate of the Mercy Hospital Training school of the class of 1928. Both the bride and groom have hosts of friends who extend congratulations and best wishes.

Mr. and Mrs. Endricks will be at home to their friends at the home of the bride's mother for the winter. The depression has made things easier for the chronic loafer. He no longer has to invent excuses for not working, as he did back in 1929.

FLINT TO BONTIAC HIGHWAY NOW OPEN

The Dixie Highway between Pontiac and Flint, which has been closed to travel since early summer, is now open.

The greater portion of the 34 miles between the two cities has been widened and resurfaced, giving motorists a 40-foot highway which replaces the old 18 and 20-foot road. The new road is built along modern methods and is practically free from curves and dangerous crossings. That section of U. S. 10 between Flint and Saginaw will be completed and opened to travel by September 15.

14 NEW LAWS GO INTO EFFECT

Fourteen laws adopted by the 1931 legislature and affecting conservation in Michigan will go into effect September 15.

Many conservation laws adopted by the last legislature including amendments to the inland fishing laws, were given immediate effect and have been in force during the summer.

The new conservation laws, in effect Friday, September 15, are brief:

Posting of hunting land without the authority of the owner or lessee is prohibited.

Additional powers are given the Geological Survey Division of the Conservation Department in regulating the drilling of oil wells.

Amendments make radical changes in the commercial forest reserve act. All general laws relative to inland fishing are applicable to the Union City Pond on the St. Joseph River.

Protection of wild predators in the Gull Lake Sanctuary is removed. Sunday hunting in Hillsdale and Clinton Counties is prohibited. Sunday hunting in Lenawee County, as provided by the legislature went into effect last spring.

Establishment and maintenance of county, township, city, village and school district forests is provided.

The Department of Conservation may pay a 10c tax on a homestead and swamp lands held by the Department.

Killing of deer in the following counties is now prohibited: Manistee, Missaukee, Wexford, Lake, Newaygo, Muskegon and Clare.

The amendments to the general game laws including the open and closed seasons are now effective.

SIXTY MOTORCYCLISTS REACH GRAYLING

Each year the Lansing Motorcycle club sponsors a contest trip for its members and last Sunday was the day set. The trip was from Lansing to Grayling and they left there at 6:00 o'clock and arrived here at 10:00 o'clock and arrived here at 10:00 o'clock and arrived here at 10:00 o'clock.

Seventy follow members of the club left Lansing and sixty made the entire trip without any trouble. The rules of the contest are that should any member encounter any machine trouble at all they are omitted from the contest and must turn back, and so ten members met with this on the way. The trip is made over trail roads that have been mapped out previous to the trip, and so a member has to be a good cyclist and have his motorcycle in good running order to get through the route. They came into Grayling by way of Lapeere and the down river roads.

On their arrival in Grayling they were met by many of our citizens and escorted to Lake Margaret where they were served dinner at the Peter Leroy mess. They remained at Shoppengans Inn for the night, leaving again Monday morning for the return trip.

Men from Detroit, Saginaw, Pontiac, Bridgeport, Muskegon, Dayton, Columbus, Wooster, Ohio; Milwaukee, Wis.; Gary, Ind., and New York City debus and walk east on Lafayette street to the assembly area.

Relief committees all over the country, in preparing for the worst, are acting very wisely. Usually when you prepare for the worst, it doesn't get that bad.

LEGION CONVENTION SEPT. 21-24

GRAYLING POST TO BE WELL REPRESENTED

Orders for "the big parade" of the American Legion in Detroit during the national convention have been completed by Major Gen. Guy M. Wilson, of Flint, chief of staff, and O. L. Bodenhamer, past national commander of the Legion, who will be grand marshal of the parade.

The parade will be on Tuesday, Sept. 22, the second day of the convention. It will form on East Jefferson avenue in the vicinity of the Bell Isle bridge and move west on Jefferson avenue to Woodward and thence north on Woodward to Yenor highway. The official reviewing stand will be in front of the City Hall, and there will be approximately 40,000 grandstand seats for the public along Jefferson avenue.

The parade orders reveal that Michigan—the host state of the convention—will wind up the parade except for the marching of veterans which will be the closing feature. All colors that have passed the reviewing stand will swing back to Woodward and Jefferson avenues and come through Woodward avenue again in mass formation.

A platoon of mounted police will clear the way for the parade, starting at 10:30 a. m. They will come from the various departments of the Legion in the following order: Porto Rico, Alaska, Hawaii, Panama, France, Canada, Italy, Mexico, Philippine Islands, Arizona, Mississippi, North Dakota, South Dakota, Wyoming, California, Nebraska, Vermont, Oklahoma, Iowa, Kansas, Tennessee, New Hampshire, North Carolina, Indiana, South Carolina, New Mexico, Oregon, Wisconsin, Louisiana, Nevada, Illinois, Washington, Minnesota, Arkansas, Alabama, Idaho, Maine, Massachusetts, West Virginia, Texas, Ohio, Colorado, District of Columbia, Pennsylvania, Connecticut, Georgia, Kentucky, Virginia, Delaware, New Jersey, New York, Utah, Montana, Rhode Island, Missouri, Maryland and Michigan.

The Michigan marchers will assemble in Canton, Concord and Bellevue streets at Jefferson avenue in time to start marching at 2:30 p. m. There are approximately 28,000 Legionnaires in Michigan and it is expected that a large percentage of these will be in the national parade.

Traffic on Woodward and Jefferson avenues over the route of the parade will be stopped at 10:40 a. m. The U. S. R. has made arrangements to get marchers from the downtown area to their points of assembly on Jefferson avenue. The Jefferson cars will be used up to 10:40 a. m. and in addition there will be coach service from the hotel district to Mel drum street where the marchers will debus and walk east on Lafayette street to the assembly area.

Grayling Post No. 106 will be in attendance with a large delegation; several of the members and their wives planning on being in Detroit for the four days. Grayling will be represented in the big parade with a float and the members of the local post in the line of march.

NOTICE

Rule No. 6 of the State Parks rules and regulations has been changed by order of the Conservation Commission to read as follows: The sale of eggs, milk, cream, butter, fruits and vegetables by farmers is prohibited in State Parks. All other poaching or vending in parks is prohibited. This change becomes effective August 14th, 1931.

ANNUAL ODD THINGS TURN FINE STORIES

The Farmers' club met at the Beaver Creek home last Sunday with a larger attendance than at any of the previous years. In numbers it is equal to those were about 400 present.

At ten o'clock the ball game was played between the local and South teams.

Dinner was called at 12 o'clock following which the business meeting was held. The following officers elected for the ensuing year: George Annis, president; John LaMott, secretary; Chris King, treasurer.

After the dinner was over a sports program was given, the first of which was a race of two men, North and South. This was a real battle and caused a lot of fun, and the North won in the contest.

The following races were carried out for which prizes were awarded: Foot race, 100 yds. under 12 years; Junior foot race, 100 yds. under 12 years; Junior foot race, 100 yds. under 12 years.

Girls' foot race, 100 yds. under 12 years; Girls' foot race, 100 yds. under 12 years; Girls' foot race, 100 yds. under 12 years.

Then there was another baseball game, this time between the Jackpines and the local team, which was easily won by the Jackpines 25 to 16. Then the Jackpines were carried off by the local team by the score of 12 to 12. Chris King was the official umpire.

It was a very interesting and enjoyable day for all present and everyone expressed themselves as having had a fine time.

A few of the residents of Beaver Creek came out together a few years ago and each year there are more and more of the old residents come back to get their old neighbors and friends. This year there were several from out of town present.

GRAYLING FISHES ENJOY DAY AT WEST BRANCH

Several Grayling people drove to West Branch Sunday morning to be part of the fishing of the West Branch entry club.

The West Branch golf course is a beautiful rolling course with enough apple trees to give here and there to make it very lovely. The greens and fairways are in fine shape and the golfers from Grayling spent a very interesting day on the course.

Mrs. George Smith of West Branch had a score of 10 which was the lowest, while Mrs. Frances Mckelton was a close second with a score of 36. The West Branch ladies served a very delicious luncheon to their guests at noon which was followed by golf and bridge. Mrs. H. A. Bauman having the high score for bridge. The following drove down for the game: Mrs. H. W. Wells, Mrs. Oscar Hanson, Mrs. H. A. Bauman, Mrs. M. Blanche Goodwin, Mrs. Carl Peterson, Mrs. O. P. Schumann, Mrs. Olaf Mckelton, Mrs. Louise Sparkes, Miss Frances Mckelton, Mrs. Jess Schoonover, Mrs. C. G. Clippert, Mrs. Clifford Durant, Mrs. A. J. Joseph, Mrs. Louise Jennings, Mrs. Esbern Olson, Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Olson, Mr. and Mrs. Harold McNeven, Mr. and Mrs. Menno Corwin, Mrs. Roy Milnes, Mrs. A. J. McInnis, Mrs. Carl Mckelton.

DUGOUT DAGO WINS CAPONE CUP

WHIPS OUT ENTIRE "CAPONE" GANG

Sunday afternoon at 2 p. m. the "Capone" gang went into the semi-finals and finals at the Grayling Golf club. The Grayling land was there and the battle started off with a bang.

Round 1

Round 1 was a complete washout for "Blackjack Johnny," "Tiny" Keyport and "One Gun" Abernethy. "Dugout" put the cleaners on "Blackjack," "Recall Joe" on "Tiny" and "Spoon" Spike" put the razzerberry on "One Gun Abernethy." This left "Blackjack" to caddy for "Spoon," "Tiny" to caddy for "Dugout" and "One Gun" to caddy for "Recall Joe" in the final rounds.

Round 2

Round 2 sure was a finger and started off with a bang from the semi-finals and the cup being carried down the course with a military escort. The cup was mounted on a long pole with the small loving cups attached on the sides. It was carried by two caddies with helmets and two guards carrying rifles acted as guards of honor.

"Dugout" and "Recall Joe" and "Spoon" Spike" started out with a bang and kept neck and neck over the first 9 holes. On the 9th hole "Recall Joe" put the ball so strong to "Dugout" that he blew up right and all along No. 5 "Recall" was playing "When the Red, Red Robin Goes Bob, Bob, Bobbing Along." This hole put "Recall" in the clear and he was out.

In the meantime "Spoon" was losing his nerve and was slowly but surely slipping behind "Dugout." On the 10th hole "Dugout" came over losing his head as he played "One Gun" on the green for a 7.

"Recall" also came over losing his right leg as "Dugout" sandbagged him on the 11th with his master and took about six inches of bark off from it.

From there on the match again opened up and "Dugout" held his own. On the 7th hole "Dugout" put on an offensive that carried him to an easy victory and the only consolation for "Recall" and "Spoon" was the thought of the party that was to follow.

The match was a real success and about 200 people followed the final round the course. It was no doubt the biggest day ever held on our course.

SHOOTING PRESERVE HUNTING LAW

Hunting on licensed shooting preserves will be permitted this year from October 15 to December 3, under a resolution adopted by the Conservation department at its regular August meeting.

The dates were changed so that hunters will have at the same time as the general bird hunting season. Last year the hunting dates under the Shooting Preserve Act were October 25 to December 15.

Closely following the form and regulations of Michigan's Shooting Preserve Act, Wisconsin has inaugurated a similar system to be effective this year.

The Wisconsin law provides that any farmer or group of farmers or other land owners may designate their lands as hunting preserves under a license issued by the Conservation Commission. They may stock the areas with pheasants either produced by themselves or purchased from commercial game breeders. After an area is stocked and the number of birds is carefully estimated by a representative of the Conservation Commission, the farmer may charge a daily hunting fee or a specific fee per bird killed during the special open season established by the commission, which shall not exceed ten days following the stocking and checking of the birds by the representative of the commission.

The total kill in any one Wisconsin shooting preserve for one year cannot exceed 75 percent of the total number of the birds stocked. This will mean, says a bulletin of the Wisconsin Commission, "that every locality in which a licensed hunting preserve is located will benefit materially from the stocking done on the preserve."

Provision is made in the law for groups of apartment who are not land owners to lease areas and propagate pheasants upon them. In this way creating their own hunting preserve. It is not necessary to charge a daily hunting fee per bird.

All birds killed on preserves must be tagged with a special seal. These seals must remain attached to the birds until they are finally prepared for consumption.

SCHOOLS MUST HAVE NAMES

The 1931 legislature passed a bill which reads as follows: The board of each school district located outside of an incorporated city or village may select a name for each school house in the district which shall be the official name of such school and shall certify said name to the county commissioner of schools. If the board fails to name the school, the commissioner shall select the name. The board shall provide a mail box for each school and maintain the same thereafter.

THE BAY CITY JUNIOR COLLEGE

By Edgar M. Woods

Rapidly spreading over the nation and receiving, in turn, the wholesale commendation of educational authorities, the Junior College system has found one of its most receptive areas in Michigan, where eight of the institutions are flourishing. One member of this list of eight, the Junior College of Bay City, directly serves the area covered by the Crawford Avalanche. With an enlarged enrollment for 1931-32 its curricula and activities and physical quarters have also been increased to afford new and greater facilities for its student members.

The Junior College system, which favors the universities for the college officials reduce the investment value of the two added years of preparatory training in fitting the student for the college world, where, if unprepared, he finds himself in a strange world, in a setting where everything is in variance with him to the extent that an inward revolt often sets in. The Junior College years serve as a transitory period, in which the student finds not only the college world, but also a university campus. But a comparatively attractive feature about Junior College is the opportunity for the youth to achieve two years of higher education at a cost as low as that incurred in high school. And the credits derived are as acceptable as college credits, which, in all reality, they are.

The Junior College of Bay City in attendance, in its seven years of existence, has swelled from less than a score in the first year to more than three hundred for the coming term. Anticipating the larger enrollment this year, the Bay City board of education ordered the college division of the Central high school campus enlarged to take care of the prospective students. Several classrooms have been added, and the entire curricula correspondingly enlarged.

A physics laboratory, chemistry laboratory, agriculture room, reading room, conference room, library, art room, publications office, faculty consultations room, dean's office, college office, science department, office, dark room for photographic work and several classrooms constitute the added features. In addition the college will have all the laboratories and the classrooms which it occupied exclusively last year.

This year the college physics and chemistry laboratories are separate units from the high school system for the first time. Both laboratories have been completely outfitted with brand new equipment. Stock rooms have been constructed off the laboratories. To take care of the ever increasing demand for curricula studies, consultation and assistance, an agricultural room has been furnished. In connection with this room, there has been provided a small model greenhouse.

The geology classroom and laboratory have also been noticeably enlarged.

Registrations for new students should be made as soon as possible this year, as there promises to be an over-capacity enrollment. The dates for registration of new students are, Wednesday and Thursday, September 9 and 10, and for returning students, Friday, September 11. The classes officially open Monday, September 14.

MICHIGAN AFFAIRS

BY A. H. GANSER

Inventory Help Future Activities. American midsummer inventories are about completed. Soon will come the usual resumption of September activities. Indications, nation-wide, confirm the general expectation of business improvement. The official report on freight car loadings the past week, show an increase over last week by 7,590 cars. Washington reports increasing activity in the building line, and a marked increase in industrial employment. The agricultural department in quantity on early crops, and the late crops are also reported in fine condition. A few areas report injury by excess heat and drought with some crop injury by insect pests. But on the whole, nature has been exceedingly kind to American farmers. The cotton crop of the south is reported to have exceeded expectations. The corn crop of the middle west has turned out better than expected. The Canadian northwest reports another bumper crop of wheat, and our own wheat raising states have fared well. The agricultural department of our own Michigan reports equal good fortune here. Our favorite crops have not suffered from blight. The "blossom queens" of last spring may now claim to be "harvest queens." In our travels about Michigan, we have seen splendid fields of sugar-beets and corn in past week. And the excess heat is bound to give high sugar contents to our beets. Optimistic reports are also coming from our Michigan motor car sales and new car sales are both reported in excess of the same period in 1930. They have also made use of their midsummer shutdown for inventory to still further improve their factory product. All of which surely combines encouraging factors.

What Price Prosperity?

America would have given much, in other periods of business depression, to have had such an official report, especially on our farm products. Forty years ago, two thirds of our population lived by agriculture. Hence their livelihood or, vitally affected our prosperity. Today one-third of our population raises more farm produce of every kind, than we can consume, and this despite our steady increase in population, and the steady trend from the farm to industry and the city. Within the last thirty years, we have developed our great oil industry, and many new mines. Michigan was said by advertisers to be outside of the natural gas and oil producing areas. But within ten years have come our Michigan oil fields at Muskegon, Mt. Pleasant, Clare and Midland. And the last wells drilled, have turned out the best producers. This would indicate that Michigan's oil resources are only just being tapped. Our tourist-business the past summer, has been better than ever before. These tourist caravans from down state and out state, undoubtedly account for added income from Michigan's gas tax this year. Our commercial fishing industry, especially along the shores of Lake Huron, report record breaking catches. Our 1931 Michigan legislature provided liberal terms for maintaining and harvesting our privately owned commercial timber. This is now largely in the upper peninsula. But much was done to improve the timber holdings on state owned lands. Forest fires have been mostly in poor cut-over land areas, and the state is at NEXT Sunday will be Rev. Green-wood's last service as pastor of Mich-elson Memorial church. There is no question but that there are many here who are sorry that he is to leave. Just where he will be located next isn't known even to himself and just who will take his place here too is not known by those here at home.

For about four years Mr. Green-wood has filled the pulpit at our church in a highly satisfactory manner. His sermons were masterful and at no time that we can recall did he ever disappoint us. It is only un- fortunate that there were not more people to hear him Sunday mornings and evenings. His messages were clear and sound and showed careful preparation and profound knowledge of his subjects. His were really lecture sermons, carefully interwoven with bible scriptures, enlightening, interesting and sound in theory. His addresses were clothed in splendid English and were pleasingly present- ed.

Outside the pulpit Mr. Greenwood was an admirable companion and friend. He was a real man, a real every-day affairs, still he was lacking the dignity and splendid character- istics that go along with men who are leaders in the affairs of good breeding and clean living. We envy the city that is next to have him as pastor of one of its churches. Mr. Greenwood could most ably fill the pulpit of a metropolitan city church, but it has often been said that he liked the north country and that it would not be easy for him to leave it. Whether the Methodist conference which seems to guide the destiny of its pastors, sees fit to offer Mr. Green-wood a pastorate such as he may desire or whether it directs his ef- forts to some other church, it is hard to say. We are sure that it is with much regret on the part of the people generally that he and his fine family are to leave here.

A Boston pilot flew over his air- and dropped $15 to his wife after she phoned him at the airport and told him that she needed it immedi- ately. Certainly not the first man to go up in the air when his wife asks for money.—Cincinnati Enquirer.

It is said that Russia's cotton crop this year will be sixty per cent greater than last year. Wonder how much greater it will be next year? If American growers decide not to raise any?

Local Happenings

Wonderful rainfall Tuesday fore- noon.

County Clerk Peterson is ill at his home. Nothing serious we hope.

Geo. Burke attended the peach festival at Romeo first of the week.

Wendell Hanna of Gladwin spent the week end in Grayling visiting friends.

Don Reynolds and family spent last week in Muskegon visiting relatives.

Paul Hendrickson, salesman for the Michigan Public Service is in Grayling on business.

Mr. and Mrs. Emil Niederer and Mr. and Mrs. J. Letkus motored to Fetskey, Harbor Springs and Charlevoix Sunday.

There is to be a tournament next Sunday at the local course between Grayling and Gaylord golfers. The play will begin at 10:00 o'clock a. m.

Mr. and Mrs. Benton Jorgenson and children of Detroit are visiting the former's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Adler Jorgenson, planning to remain indefinitely.

Bert Clark and Charles Lovelace of Cheboygan were in Grayling this week checking up on the voltage conditions of the Michigan Public Service Company.

Rev. and Mrs. Kiohede enjoyed a visit over the week end from their nephew and niece, Mr. and Mrs. Brandt Peterson and children of Syracuse, N. Y.

Mrs. Anna Insley and daughter Miss Margaret, Dr. and Mrs. Stanley Insley, of Detroit, are guests at the home of Prosecuting Attorney and Mrs. Marius Insley.

Mr. and Mrs. O. P. Schumann en- joyed having as their guests over the week end their daughter and husband, Mr. and Mrs. Oscar E. Wilkinson of Chicago.

Credit is due Clarence Johnson, alias "Blackjack Johnson," for the interesting write-ups that have been appearing in this paper on the "Cane Gang" tournament.

Dr. and Mrs. C. G. Chippert and daughter Billy Ann motored to Mt. Pleasant this morning to spend the day with Mrs. Chippert's parents, Mr. and Mrs. E. H. Webb.

Mr. and Mrs. I. R. Lyons and the former's son of Grand Blanc visited Grayling friends here Friday and Saturday, guests at the Adler-Jorgenson home. Mrs. Lyons will be re- membered as Margaret Johnson.

T. W. Hansen and daughter, a Virginia arrived Wednesday at Chicago. Miss Hansen had spent the summer at her mother Mrs. Hansen's home in Chicago.

Dr. and Mrs. LeBlanc and little daughter have returned to their home in Cincinnati, Ohio, after spending the summer at Lake Margrethe. The doctor and family are planning on returning again next year for their summer's vacation.

Recently Mrs. Celia Granger, Miss Granger, Miss Ruth McNeven and Kathryn Brown spent the week end in East Lansing and enjoyed at- tending the People's church there, which is a beautiful building.

Mr. and Mrs. Chris King shipped 1000 quarts of buckberries all done up in jars and ready to eat to the Kellogg sanitarium at Battle Creek, filling an order they had contracted for. Mr. King said the fruit was of superior quality.

Saturday afternoon Charles Corvin called for help from town as a forest fire was raging in the vicinity of his farm home. At the time help came it was just across the road, but many hands make short work, and the fire was soon under control.

Miss Margrethe Nelson left Mon- day to spend the month of September visiting in Saginaw, Detroit, Pontiac and other places. She accompanied members of the Anthony Nelson family of Saginaw, who had spent the week end at Lake Margrethe.

Mr. and Mrs. Frederick H. Free- man and two daughters motored here from St. Thomas, Ont., to spend a few days with Mrs. Freeman's par- ents, Mr. and Mrs. Orlo Shreve. They also called on Mr. and Mrs. John W. Payne, of Frederic. They spent most of Sunday afternoon at Lake Mar- grethe.

Mr. Rollin B. Eiber and Mr. Mei- vin C. Potts of Cleveland, were guests at Linger Longer. Mr. Potts is archi- tect for the Austin Company of Cleve- land, Ohio, and is a nephew of Mrs. Orlo Shreve.

Rev. and Mrs. J. W. Greenwood and family will leave tomorrow morning for Akron, Mich., where the former will conduct the funeral of one of the pioneer residents of that place. They will return Saturday.

Dr. and Mrs. T. G. Amos and daughters, June and Marion of De- troit, are spending a few days camp- ing on the Manistee River. Dr. Amos is an officer of the Michigan Na- tional Guard and attends the State Military camp here each summer.

J. Van Valkenberg of Frederic was arrested Wednesday for driving a car without a license plate, which was discovered when he had hit an- other car. He was fined $5.00 and costs or seven days in the County Jail, so he is serving the seven days.

Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Hunschman, Mr. and Mrs. F. J. Donbrava, all of Cleveland, were week end visitors at Linger Longer, visiting at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Orlo Shreve. They all went to Long Lake on a fishing trip for a week before returning to their homes.

Pete Lovely, famed all over Michi- gan for his "Lumberjack" dinners, has returned to the Olson building next door to the Bank of Grayling and will open a lunch room. The place has been remodelled and decorated and it is surprising how attractive it is going to be. He says that he hopes to be able to open for business Saturday.

Tuesday evening a meeting of the graduate nurses of the Grayling dis- trict was held at Mercy Hospital. At this time the nurses enjoyed a talk in membership by Miss Olive Sewell, Lansing, general secretary of the Michigan Nurses association. There were 12 members of the Grayling dis- trict association present, but the list of 20 members, having recently consolidated with Traverse City, Miss Faye Matheson and Miss Clarice Welch, this year's graduates will be eligible for membership next month.

A family reunion of the Hans Peterson family was held at the home of the oldest daughter and her hus- band, Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Largin (Sena Peterson) at Carr last Sunday and Monday. All of the sons and daughters and in families were present, numbering 39 people. Sun- day a chicken dinner was enjoyed by the young people enjoyed games and races for which prizes were awarded. In the evening bridge was enjoyed by the grown-ups. Mr. and Mrs. Hans Peterson and Mr. and Mrs. Earl Dawson and family and Mr. John Olsen of California were those present from Grayling.

Tuesday was the opening day of school and it dawned with a down- pour of rain that kept many from school. Monday afternoon and Tues- day saw many old faces and many new ones in their rooms. The total enrollment has not yet been arrived at, however the assembly boasts of 210. The junior class numbers 39, but the seniors only 13. Several former pupils have returned to High School, as follows: Louise Layack, Mrs. Hazel Chumbrlin, Mrs. Gertrude Shoemaker, Clayton McDonnell, Rudolph Harrison and Mrs. Laura Welch.

Michelson Memorial Church

Sunday, September 13, 1931
(This is our last Sunday in the Conference Year.)
Theme: "The One Thing Worth Knowing."

The Fear That Paralyzes
I have just finished another book. It was a good book, ripe in the ex- periences which come to men who have lived through many years. I presume that the author was in his sixties when he penned his last lines. The very last message which he gave to us is in it. "After all the years, I am aware of one lesson which I have learned. Most of the bridges which I foresaw were not there."

And that leads us to state that fear is a paralyzing thing. It de- stroys our efficiency and wastes our energy. More worry does not solve a single problem. It dissipates our best selves and leaves us weak and unequal to our task. How much bet- ter if we could only approach the future with that calm confidence which Browning has suggested in Rabbi Ben Ezra:

"Grow old along with me!
The BEST is yet to be.
The LAST of life, for which the
FIRST was made:
Our times are in His hand
Who saith: A whole I planned,
Youth shows but half; trust God; see all nor be afraid!"

Famous Negro Physicians
The first negro physician of any standing in this country, of whom there is record was James Derham, also a slave to Philadelphia, 1767. He was taught by his master to com- pound medicines and attained such skill that he was sold to another doctor, who used him as an assist- ant. He was enabled to purchase his freedom and moved to New Orleans, where he built up a lucrative prac- tice. The celebrated physician, Dr. Benjamin Rush, published an account of Derham and gave him credit for his skill. The first negro physician was Dr. John V. De Graze, who became a member of the Medical As- sociation of Massachusetts in 1854.

Type to Title

James Wellington, wandering print- er, who learned in the composing room of the News-Globe in Amarillo, Texas, that his father, Ormsby Augustus Wellington, had died leaving him heir to the original estate of the duke of Wellington, of whom he is a direct descendant. The death of his father makes him Lord of South County of Tipperary, Ireland. He has sailed to take possession of his new property and title.

Weds Real Prince

Alene McFarland, daughter of Mrs. Charles McFarland of New York and Westfield, Texas, who, it is re- vealed, has become the bride of Prince Johann von Liechtenstein, a mem- ber of the ruling house of the prin- cipality of Liechtenstein. The cere- mony was performed at the church of Our Lady of Assumption in London. The couple will come to the United States for an indefinite stay.

A great many authorities are tel- ling us that Germany can pay no more reparations but it seems to us that this is something for England and France to worry about. Ger- many doesn't owe us any reparations.

Chemists now announce that they can produce silk synthetically and we suppose it won't be long now until there will be general unemployment among the silkworms, too.

Solves Hot Weather Church Problem

When it gets too hot for folks to go to church the church can now go to the people. Seven Baptist ministers of the Calumet region of northern Indi- ana put their heads together to solve the problem and devised this "traveling church" mounted on the chassis of an old seven-passenger car. The motor- ized church has a twelve-foot battery containing a bell. The roof, thrown back, discloses a pulpit and an organ, and amplifiers with radio equipment make it possible for a great audience to hear the entire service. The church is 22 feet long, 8 feet wide, and has interior seating capacity for 12 persons.

Ambition and Talent

By THOMAS ARKLE CLARK
Dean of Men, University of Illinois.

Ambition and persistence will carry us a long way in the ordinary affairs of life, and in most of the profes- sions for that matter, but not in matters artistic unless there be combined with these other qual- ities some trace of talent. It is said that Mat- thew Arnold learned to be a poet through hard work, and that Stevenson so learned the art of literature, but there was talent combined with the other very necessary qualities which these men had.

It was Saxton's ambition to be a writer from the time when he was a boy, he had been thrilled by the tales of Scott and Cooper. Adventure, the romantic, appealed to him in the strongest way. He labored at his compositions in school and college with the greatest persistence and the most swelling ambition. Try as he would he could never get higher than a "B" and that only rarely.

That was twenty years ago or more. He is dubbing along today on a small salary as a newspaper reporter, still trying to write, but never getting any where. Possibly he might have made a business man; maybe he could have been a lawyer or a physician, or he might even have taught other people how to write, all of which are not seem- ingly impossible, but one should know how to do a thing himself in order to teach others—but he could not write himself. He had no talent for it, though he had immeasurable ambition.

I saw in a great art center some time ago scores of men and women whose fondest ambition was to be great painters. Some of them were young and healthy looking, but the thing that seemed to me the saddest about it all was the fact that many of them were old, gray, pale-faced, who were possessed of this high ambition to do something outstanding and yet who had grown old doing only the commonplace.

Jobs has just asked my advice as to his taking up music as a profes- sion. I don't think you can for seem- ingly impossible and the pleasure of your friends. You'll need to make a living so I'd sell gasoline or automobiles."

The Laundry Job Conquered

What a fuss there was about the old-fashioned wash day! You would have thought the family was mov- ing, so great was the confusion. And the next week, the whole thing over again.

But nowadays the laundry job is simply absorbed into a normal day. The electric washer does it quickly and thoroughly. And have you seen the new ironers? Picture yourself resting while you iron. They may be purchased either in combination with the washer or by themselves. It will be worth your while to inquire about them at your dealer's or at our store.

History of "Jazz"

Strictly speaking there was no jazz music before the World War. At least, it was not known by that name. The word jazz was in use, however, in New Orleans, where its origin has been traced, perhaps twenty years before this end of the Nineteenth century. But it was used in the verb form and applied to a rudimentary syncopated type of music as a cue to speed it up or to enliven it. Some years later, perhaps in the year 1900, the word jazz was used in the noun form, and in 1914 a complete jazz orchestra com- posed of ten saxophones, cornet, trom- bone, violin, banjo, piano and drums, played at Los Angeles. A year later this music gained popularity in Chi- cago and a band of jazz musicians, led by a man named Louis Armstrong, made an advance out of jazz and called it his own, the "Hot Jazz" band. This appears to be the first use of the term "jazz band."

Interesting Events In Grayling 23 Years Ago

INTERESTING ITEMS OF NEWS GATHERED FROM THE FILES
OF THE AVALANCHE OF 23 YEARS AGO.

Thursday, September 10, 1908

Miss Shea from Saginaw was the welcome guest of Miss Louise Peterson last week.

The new opera house and Odd fellows hall is nearly through with the brickwork and will soon be enclosed. It is an honor to the village.

Miss Helen Johnson went to Boyne City, Saturday, where she will spend the balance of the vacation, returning the last of the month to the State Normal at Ypsilanti.

The Love and Brott neighborhoods in Beaver Creek had a red hot time in Beaver Creek, last week, fighting fire. They succeeded in preventing large loss in their buildings and crops but lost some fences and considerable timber.

Mrs. Mary Vallad and family had a strenuous time for three days last week in saving her home from destruction by forest fires.

The forest fires raging all around Grayling destroyed the dwelling of Paul Labrash with all its contents leaving the family destitute. Ed. Alger, one of his neighbors, lost his barn, harness and some tools.

Last Thursday morning mercury registered at 29 degrees, and considerable damage was done throughout the county, but much was saved by a heavy fog, which gave about as much precipitation as a good shower.

R. Hoblin and family have returned from a month's happy outing from Mackinaw Island to Cleveland and intermediate cities, closing for a few days at their old home in Bay City.

Rev. John J. Riess, formerly assistant to St. Joseph's church at West Branch, has been appointed by Rt. Rev. M. J. Richter D. D., bishop of Grand Rapids, as acting pastor of St. Mary's Catholic church of Grayling.

ing. He will also have charge of the surrounding missions of Roscommon, Frederic, Lewiston and Johannesburg. Father Riess will reside here permanently and attend the surrounding missions from this parish.

School Notes (23 Years Ago)

The High School wish to thank the Board of Education for wiring the building this summer. All we now ask is to be hitched on to the dynamo.

Francis Reagan and Louise Peterson are newly enrolled high school students.

High School enrollment largest in years. Freshman class number 5.

Miss Bell has the English work, Zoology and Physical Geography; Miss O'Donoghue the Languages, History and one Algebra class and Supt. Bradley looks after Geometry, Physics, Chemistry and Freshman Algebra.

Lovells Local (23 years ago)

T. E. Douglas & Co.'s large camp on Big Creek burned last Friday.

The forest fires continue to burn. Thursday the fire came up to the south side of town and there was fear at one time that the town would be burned. The Douglas & Co.'s camp was put to plowing and with what help could be gathered the fire was stopped before it reached any of the buildings.

Joe Simms had the misfortune of losing his camp by forest fire Saturday. This is the second time his camp has been burned.

Mr. McKenzie, Sr. went to Hargis Monday to put on another mill.

Archie Rosier was married to Miss Nellie Henry Monday; they returned to Lovells Saturday.

EXPERIENCED DRIVERS CAUSE MOST ACCIDENTS

According to Edward J. O'Meara, Highway Commissioner of Wisconsin, the rate of increase in automobile accidents is greater among experienced drivers than among those of two or less years' driving experience.

This does not mean that we should not attempt to make sure new drivers are competent before licensing them to operate cars, but it does indicate that carelessness is the principal cause of the mounting toll of automobile deaths and injuries. The so-called "good" drivers are those who do the excessive speeding on stretches of narrow, twisting road, who pass on corners, weave in and out of traffic, and of the rest of the things that result in crashes.

Rigid enforcement of driving codes alone cannot overcome this because the patrolman is limited to the very small piece of road on which he can be at any given time. A sense of responsibility of duty must in some way be instilled in those who use the highways, to materially improve the accident record.

General safety education in schools is now producing tangible results in the form of fewer deaths to children of school age—and the knowledge implanted in maleable minds now will be retained by the adult. Education, vividly and unforgettingly pursued, is the greatest factor in fighting the accident menace.

SAFETY SUGGESTIONS

Three elements must be considered in highway accidents—the car, the road, and the driver. According to Sidney J. Williams of the National Safety Council, each of these elements sometimes predominates, but in general the car is a lot safer than the highway, and the highway is a lot safer than the driver.

Statistics of past years cast interesting light on the accident situation. Traffic accidents among school children are on the decrease, while those among adults are on the increase, thus proving the value of safety education in schools. During the last three years the number of commercial vehicles involved in fatal accidents has gone down 19 per cent, while the number of private cars so involved has gone up 27 per cent. This reflects the beneficial results of education and supervision of drivers by their employers. An intensive study has shown that states with a standard drivers' license law have had 20 per cent fewer fatalities than they would have had if the annual increase had continued at the same rate as in non-license states. Also, statistics show that recent increases have been entirely in the country. In cities the battle is being waged on a different ground. Mr. Williams has put forward nine suggestions for reducing accidents. These include magazine, newspaper, radio and other publicity to impress the individual driver with his responsibility as a standard driver; license law, rigidly enforced, in every state; psychological studies of the mental or personal causes of accidents; regular inspection of all vehicles; a state organization of the nation need not be a mere slogan, but a practical work and back up the constitutional authorities—and to make "cheat" in traffic as unfashionable as "cheating" at cards. These are sound suggestions which every state and city would do well to give serious consideration.

REINHABITING THE COUNTRY SIDE
Industry, headed for more than a century toward centralization in big cities, is likely to rehabilitate the countryside, but the industrial evolution of the nation need not be a mere slogan, but a practical work and back up the constitutional authorities—and to make "cheat" in traffic as unfashionable as "cheating" at cards. These are sound suggestions which every state and city would do well to give serious consideration.

That industry is retracing its steps, widely distributed. Electricity is available in any quantity at virtually every point of the map. Industry is not slow to recognize the advantages of decentralization in terms of lower costs and improved working conditions.

"The industry of the future is more likely to inhabit the countryside, to possess all the advantages of power machinery without the disadvantages of congestion which have heretofore accompanied it."

Rev. Greenwood will close his conference year as pastor of Michigan Memorial church here next Sunday. The following day he will leave for Detroit to be in attendance at the annual M. E. conference. On Sunday, Sept. 20, he will occupy the pulpit of one of the Methodist churches in Detroit. On that day there will be a service in the local church except the usual Sunday school service.

We're afraid Holsapple is going to get more about the soldier boys in Detroit this month than he ever knew before. If he thinks they're going to make fools of themselves, he's crazier than he is. They didn't do it overseas nor will they do it here. Mr. Holsapple ought to take another hitch in his belt and wake up. The boyan Observer.

If you want to get an eye full of how part of the dollars are being spent by the highway department take a skip up to Mackinaw City and walk out on the highway. The state ferry dock and you'll be surprised at the magnitude of the job that is there nearing completion. When finished it will be work to be proud of and one can vision so many dollars in the cement and machinery that the idea of financing a straight bridge turns a flip flop in your mind. Don't forget the free chest clinic power, arms and munitions, of the war training. The 33rd Michigan that will be conducted by the Michigan Germans to the breaking point, Austria's collapse against Russia in Galicia, and her dire straits on the Italian front, made it necessary for Germany to send veteran fighting divisions from France and the Baltic Sea front to Paris, London, Rome and Petrograd war bulletins of late now they were waiting for some decisive action by Rumania's more than half a million of well trained and well equipped soldiers. Never a thought, that this Michigan regiment was in truth even in that hour on its way into the World war, and that three long years would come and go before they would again see home.

AM. LEGION NOTES

BY A. H. GANSSER

Just Fifteen Years Ago.

September 1, 1916, marked another important event on the part of the American Legion.

Germanies to stop the British advance in the Somme river battle front. This greatest of all British battles in the World war had been going forward since July 1, 1916.

For eight months, Britain had been drawing from California on the Turkish front to strengthen this major offensive. Reborn from home, from India, Australia and New Zealand, the British front at Salonika in Greece, to protect the Suez Canal and Egypt. Gen. Townshend's army, which had surrendered to the Turks at Kut-el-Amara on April 29, 1916, had been replaced by new British troops coming from India.

At the same time a big British army was attacking the Turks in the Caucasus and Armenia. In June, 1916, the Russians had begun their victory drive against Austria through Volhynia and Bukovina. At the same time, the Italians were attacking the Austrians in the Trentino from Feb. 23, 1916, to July 1, the French had been fighting desperately to hold Verdun, against the ill-coordinated attack by the armies of the crown prince. And so the British had begun their attack on the enemy in July 1, 1916, and the allied victory efforts on three major war fronts. Originally it had been planned to start this big British effort, when Rumania should join the allies, for the final war push. But Rumania looked for Bessarabia, and did not enter the war until Aug. 27, 1916. As an effort to break the German trench lines, the Somme attack by 300,000 British and 150,000 French, had been an immediate and costly failure.

The Allied Victory Drive.

Today official source records indicate that Britain lost 45,000 men in killed, wounded and missing, that 20 mile front attack on German trenches on the Somme river front, on July 1, 1916. Blenheim, Waterloo, and other memorable battles in British history, were relatively small affairs. Their far reaching historic results were due to the enemy's defeat.

But being related to the Somme river battle fronts in 1916 taught new World war lessons. It was found, that once hundreds of thousands of men have been concentrated, with all their modern mass of munitions and supplies, they must continue to fight it out on that line, cost what it may.

So with the historic battle of the Somme, the British had refused to accept defeat on July 1, 1916. Thereafter the Somme river battle became a slow, grim, monotonous advance. Each advance was met by mass artillery bombardment, such as the world had never seen before.

Each advance was limited to some immediate, but limited, objective. The concentrated attack on three major war fronts, had strained both the man-

CHILDREN CRY FOR IT—

CHILDREN hate to take medicine as a rule, but every child loves the taste of Castoria. This pure vegetable preparation is just as good as it tastes; just as bland and just as harmless as the recipe reads.

When Baby's cry warns of colic, a few drops of Castoria have him soothed, asleep again in a jiffy. Nothing is more valuable in diarrhea. When coated tongue or bad breath tell of constipation, invoke its gentle aid to cleanse and regulate a child's bowels. In colds or children's diseases, you should use it to keep the system from clogging.

Castoria is sold in every drug store; the genuine always bears Chas. H. Fletcher's signature.
